

Our Working Agreement

This is a working agreement between:

[Insert name of child or young person],

[Insert name of parent(s)/carer(s)],

[Insert name of worker] from [insert name of service].

When we are working together we agree to:

- Take it in turns to speak
- Listen to each other
- Respect everyone's views and ideas
- Speak up if we don't understand something

[insert additional suggestions from child/young person/parent]

The law says that all children, young people and parents have a right to:

- Be listened to
- Be involved in decision making
- Be given enough information to make decisions

Children who are still at school (under 16) have a right to be involved in decisions about them. Their parent or carer has the final say.

Reading Information Advice and Support Service for SEND

Young people (over 16) have the final say about decisions which affect them. Their parent or carer can still be involved or make decisions for them, if the young person agrees.
